BOGART CREEK COMMUNITY PLANTING DAY

DATE April 30, 2010

Newmarket – The Lake Simcoe Region Conservation Authority (LSRCA), the Bogart Creek Restoration Committee and their partners will be hosting a Bogart Creek Community Planting Day on Saturday May 8, 2010 from 10:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. (rain or shine) in the College Manor Park, in Newmarket.

Everyone who lives near Bogart Creek or is concerned about its environmental health is urged to come out and help plant native trees and shrubs to help restore Bogart Creek. The conservation authority reminds everyone to dress for the weather. Refreshments will be provided by Country Style Donuts and shovels will be available.

The Bogart Creek Community Planting Day is made possible with assistance from:

- Bogart Creek Restoration Committee
- Dave Kerwin, Ward 2, Town of Newmarket
- Lake Simcoe Region Conservation Authority
- Lake Simcoe Conservation Foundation
- Newmarket Environmental Advisory Committee
- Town of Newmarket
- York Environmental Stewardship
- York Bassmasters
- York Natural Planting Partnership
